

Dear Test Guardian:

Enclosed is a book and a link to an audio file chosen and recorded by Test Parent for the child in your care, Test Child. Please use your own judgment on how to use the book and recording.

We are grateful for the opportunity to provide these books and know that in most cases these books and recordings mean so much to the children. It is a reminder that their parent is thinking of them. However, we only see the parent and do not know the situation or needs of their child. As a direct observer you can make a decision if these recordings will help or hinder the child in your care. Our concern is first of all for the children.

To access the audio file use the information below or use a QR code app on your phone to scan the code at the bottom of the page:
